W. A. Harrison and his bride are spending a few days in the district, having arrived here on Tuesday evening's train. The happy couple spent several days, enroute from B. C., at Banff, Calgary and other points. Mr. Harrison, whose mother, Mrs. H. Gunderson, and three brothers reside north of town, is well known to many people and all extend congratulations to him. He is now located at Nelson, B. C., where he holds a position as head bookkeeper and manager of the A. McDonald Wholesale House.

BOXING AND WRESTLING

Over two hundred persons attended the wrestling and boxing bouts in the Big Hall last Saturday. The 5-round match between Young Bach and Battling Harrison was a hummer from the tap of the gong to the finish. While science was not shown at all the boys made up for it in a willingness to mix it and absorb punishment without flinching. The crowd gave them a good hand for their exhibition. Bach had the best of it in the early rounds but Harrison staged a whirlwind finish and won a popular decision. If these lads meet again they will no doubt draw a good house.

The wind up of the wrestling match was rather disappointing to the fans, but owing to an injury to his wrist O'Hara was forced to forfeit the match.

For three parts of the time during the first fall Ingersoll forced matters and had O'Hara on the defence. Some fast work was witnessed and after 28 minutes had elapsed Ingersoll secured the first fall. A few minutes before this O'Hara recovered his injury. During the interval Dr. Mason advised him not to continue. The wrestlers had only been on the mat a few minutes, the second time, when O'Hara gave up the match. W. S. McCulloch was referee.

POKER GAME RAIDED

A raid was made on the Dominion Cafe about midnight on Saturday where a poker game was in progress. Three officers, in plain clothes, conducted the affair and placed the bunch under arrest. After being handcuffed in pairs they were marched down to the J. P. and they pleaded guilty to the charge of gambling. The proprietor of the Cafe was fined $50.00 and costs and each of the six frequenters were assessed $10 and costs. The costs amounted to $5.25 for each prisoner. The dicks also grabbed off $40 that was in the kitty.

Penny—On August 19th, to Alf and Mrs. Penny, a son.

The steady rain all day and night, Sunday, made the trails almost impassable to cars.

The fine weather of the last two days has dried things up again, considerable, and the mud is disappearing fast.

Of all the Gramophones in the world, we believe the Melotone to be of the best. It is fully warranted and the Manufacturers' guarantee is given with each machine that is sold. There is no question about the tone and volume, and in price it compares equally with any machine on the market.

It is an all-Canadian product, being made in Winnipeg, yet there are people who would rather pay the extra duty and still get an inferior machine, just because it was manufactured in another country.

The Melotone is built in various Models to suit the most exclusive tastes, and ranging in price from $125.00 to $250.00, and in any size. It is equipped so as to play all makes of records and can be furnished with Diamond or Sapphire Point Needles. In place of Nickel trimmings you can have it finished in Gold or Silver; these come a little higher than the standard makes.

stock has been demonstrated in the Big Hall with over thirty couples dancing merrily to the music.

If you are interested in a Gramophone or a Piano it will pay you to come in and talk it over, and see the Catalogue.

If not satisfied you are under no obligation to buy.

DISTRICT MEETING

The Fall District Meeting of the ministers of the Coronation District under the supervision of the Methodist Church which was to have been held on Friday of last week, was, by virtue of the stormy weather and an inconvenient railway service made into a two-day affair.

The first day completed all of the business of the meeting and the gathering then resolved into a delightfully unconventional round-table conference on the various problems challenging the Church of today. Such questions as the following were discussed: Does the Gospel appeal to the man of today? What stand should the Church take in reference to prevailing economic restlessness? Is the world becoming better through the preaching of the Gospel? This system of discussion was as inspiring and helpful as it was unique and instructive.

The review of the work on the various fields of labor gave evidence of the sincerity of spirit with which the work of the Kingdom is being done.

The drought sections of the District necessitated the raising of the Missionary grant this year, but otherwise every department of the work was very encouraging. Every member of the District was able to attend and present his circuit report, the lay representation, however, was smaller than usual, there being but three in attendance.

Arrangements were tentatively completed for the holding of a November meeting on the Wise field, south of Loyalist, if the roads and weather permit.

The personnel of the District remains the same as last year with the exception of the Chairman, Rev. W. J. Haggith, who comes to Coronation from Banff. Rev. Scragg being moved to Calgary.

Rev. T. Powell, Supt. of Missions for Southern Alberta was also in attendance to receive reports and advise as to coming Missionary efforts.

Open Portals: May They Never Close

At a time when the great question of world disarmament is engaging the attention of the leading nations, and on the eve of the assembling of the Washington Conference to deal with the subject, it was most appropriate that some tangible recognition of the world's greatest experiment in disarmament should be made. This was done on September 6th on the Canada-United States border between the Province of British Columbia and the State of Washington when the gates of the great International Peace Arch, erected at a cost of $40,000, were thrown open at an impressive ceremony.

This magnificent Peace Arch commemorates one hundred years of peace between Great Britain and the United States. Following the war of 1812, a peace treaty was signed at Ghent, Belgium, on December 24, 1814, and by the provisions of that treaty it was provided that neither Great Britain nor the United States should erect fortifications along the boundary line between their respective territories, nor would either country maintain vessels of war on the Great Lakes. In other words, it was mutually agreed that along the whole 3,000 mile boundary, neither country would make or maintain any warlike preparation against the other. Both countries disarmed absolutely so far as they were concerned.

For over one hundred years that pact has been kept unbroken despite the many complex questions and differences of opinion which have at various times arisen between the two nations, as it is inevitable they should develop where there is so much in common and where the interests of one is bound on occasion to clash with the interests of the other.

But if the two wealthiest and most powerful nations in the world, both financially and commercially aggressive, could wholly disarm in so far as the relations of one to the other were concerned, surely it is within the field of practical international politics for all the great nations to follow their example, and thereby not only relieve their people from the crushing burden of armaments but remove the greatest of all incentives to war, namely, active preparation for it, leading to a rivalry in warlike preparation which cannot but finally end in putting these great machines of destruction to the use for which they were built up.

Imagine what the cost to Great Britain, Canada and the United States would have been during the past one hundred years if each had maintained great fortifications along a 3,000 mile boundary line, rival fleets of war on the Great Lakes and Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and standing armies ready to fly at each other's throats! And had such preparations for war been made, is it not merely possible but probable that on occasions in the past when relations became delicate and somewhat strained, recourse would have been had to the rifle and cannon rather than to the peaceful means of arbitration? And what has been possible on the North American continent is surely at least worth a fair trial in Europe and between all countries.

The ceremonies attendant on the opening of this International Peace Arch were not only impressive, but provide a sound guarantee of a maintenance of those friendly relations under which both countries have prospered. The longer the peace remains unbroken, the less likelihood there is that it ever will be broken. That old treaty of Ghent still stands, but it has been buttressed in these later years by a second treaty between the two countries which provides that all causes of dispute between them shall be submitted to an impartial court of arbitration.

At the opening ceremony the United States flag on the Arch was raised by a British Columbia girl and the British flag by an American girl. Emphasizing the common ancestry of both people, the ceremony took place on the same date as that on which the Pilgrim Fathers went on board the Mayflower. The Arch itself carries across the point on the United States' side the words, "Children of a Common Mother," and on the Canadian side, "Brethren Dwelling Together in Unity." The doors of the great Arch bear the inscriptions: "Open for One Hundred Years; May These Doors Never Be Closed."

This wish will find an echo in the hearts of all British and United States subjects, coupled with an ardent desire that disarmament may not be confined to these two great English-speaking nations, but that it may be extended to include all nations, races and languages until open portals stand on all international boundary lines testifying to the real brotherhood of man.

Buy a bottle of trusty old Nerviline to-day and keep it handy. Big Lumber Cut. The Secretary of the Mountain Lumber Association states that the production of the Mountain Mills for the first six months in 1921 was approximately one hundred million feet, and the shipments over that period roughly totalled seventy-five million feet.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA TORTURING SCIATICA

Both Come From the Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood.

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new, rich blood and thus act as a most effective nerve tonic. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and note the ease and comfort that follows their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Elevators in Mapitoba

Expected That System Will Handle Five Million Bushels of Grain This Season.

One hundred government elevators with an average capacity of about twenty-five thousand bushels each, or an aggregate capacity of 2,500,000 bushels, are taking care of their share of this year's crop in Manitoba. These elevators usually fill up about twice at least during the season, so that they will actually handle approximately five million bushels of Manitoba grain this fall. Practically all of this will be wheat.

In all, there are 702 country elevators in Manitoba with a total capacity of 22,926,000 bushels, besides five large interior storage elevators capable of holding an additional 2,200,000 bushels of grain.

World's Smallest Railway

Independent Little Line in Highlands of Cumberland.

Canadian visitors to Europe, on landing at Liverpool or Southampton, are at once struck by the small size of British locomotives as compared with the mighty machines in American railway operation. Their astonishment, not unminged with amusement, is, however, soon supplemented by admiration for the excellent running made on the English main lines, but if one's itinerary takes him into the lakelands and highlands of Cumberland he will there find an independent little line which is said to be "the smallest public railway in the world."

This line is known as the Eskdale Railway, and is seven and one-eighth miles in length. The rail gauge is one of fifteen inches only. It is leased to a London company—Narrow Gauge Railways, Limited. The passenger service is carried on by mid-gauge express engines, built to a scale of one-quarter the size of ordinary British main line locomotives, but in other respects exactly the same in construction and appearance.

Miller's Worm Powders not only make the infantile system untenable for worms, but by their action on the stomach, liver and bowels they correct such troubles as lack of appetite, biliousness and other internal disorders that the worms create. Children thrive upon them and no matter what condition their worm-infested stomachs may be in, they will show improvement as soon as the treatment begins.

The stick insect of Borneo is the largest insect known. Specimens 13 inches in length have been captured. The insect exactly resembles a piece of rough stick.

Note and Comment

Winter is for most farmers a season in which there is comparatively little outdoor work. There is, however, always work of some kind for the energetic man on the farm. The care and protection of his investment in implements should be one of his important duties. By this care, not only can he prolong their usefulness, but he can save considerable time.

It is of great importance that implements and tools, when required for use, be in condition for to give satisfactory service. Machinery consists of fixed and moving parts, and it is necessary for their successful operation that they remain in this condition. Use, however, will cause vibration, which tends to loosen and wear bolts and other parts of machines. An inspection will discover where these are and nuts may be tightened and worn parts renewed; these, if neglected, till the machines are required, may cause the loss of valuable days thru the loss of bolts or nuts, or while new parts are secured.

A certain minister was greatly disturbed by a number of women in his congregation who persistently gossiped in a loud tone during the service. One Sunday morning he executed a plan he had devised to stop this annoyance. At a given signal the choir stopped abruptly in the middle of a hymn. Then one of the gossipers, unable to check herself, was heard all over the church to say: "I always fry mine in lard." "As we know," announced the parson, "that she always fries hers in lard, we will proceed with the singing."

It is possible to kiss a girl while driving an automobile, but it takes a whole lot of co-operation.

The recent wet spell has put land in good shape for fall cultivation and there will no doubt be a considerable acreage put under the plow before freeze-up. It is several years now since there has been as much moisture in the ground, at this season, and it augurs well for crop prospects in 1922.

A bumper crop, with good prices, and an oil gusher, for next year, will just about fill the bill. Aye, what?

It is said that the girls are adopting the fashion of bobbing their hair because that is the only thing left that they dare to take off.

Whenever a period of hard times strikes the world, one hears a great deal of talk by students and professed students of economics and the banks. The credit system, comes in for a great deal of discussion and remedies are proposed on every side. We hear it said that credit is the ruination of modern business. When things are moving along smoothly and everyone has plenty of money to carry along their affairs, then, too, credit is unlimited. It is during the stringency of money that credit becomes unpopular, and the fault, in the opinion of many, lies not with the credit system, but with the few men who have gained control of the circulating money of a nation, and who can either dam up or release the flow as their greed dictates. The fact remains, however, that for the very reason cited above together with several more as nearly sufficient, credit is as essential in business, as it is between the different countries. No form of commercial life today can survive any length of time without some form of credit.

This is so because of the fact that none of us are content to exist upon our income. We trade—not with what we actually have in hand but with what we expect to have. The system of credit is alright in itself but like almost everything else liable to abuse and it might, perhaps, be a good thing if in small businesses a way could be found to curtail its operations. On the other hand there can be no real progress without ambition, and so long as industrial life is determined to reach ahead into the future there is bound to be credit.

When we are content to take things as they come day by day, and with no thought of better for tomorrow, we shall have solved our financial problems. The remedy lies in an adequate and safe control of circulating money and credits, and not in the abolition of credit.

Some men are not very complimentary to their dogs when they say the dog knows as much as they do.

CAN THE DEAF BE MADE TO HEAR?

This question can be answered both ways. If the deafness is due to Catarrh, success is general if the sufferer persists in the use of Catarrhazone, and thereby drives the mucus out of the system. Penetrating through the passages of the ear, the soothing vapor of Catarrhazone relieves the inflammation, destroys the Seeds of Catarrh and thereby allows nature to re-assert herself. For Catarrhal Deafness, pain over the eyes, plugged nostrils and other symptoms associated with Catarrh, use Catarrhazone. You'll be more than pleased with the quick improvement in your condition. Two months' treatment, One Dollar, sold everywhere or the Catarrhazone Co., Montreal.

The Homesteaders

— BY —
ROBERT J. C. STEAD

Published by Special Arrangement
With the Author.

He disengaged her, gently enough. As Beulah said, his heart was all right, but a long way in. Twenty-five years of pitched battle with circumstance—sometimes in victory, sometimes in defeat, but never in despair, always with a load of expense about him, always with the problem of income and outlay to be solved—had made of Harris a man very different from the young idealist of '82. During the first years of struggle for a bare existence in some way the flame of idealism still burned, but with the dawn of the "better times" there came a gradual shifting of standards and a new conception of essentials. At first the settlers attached little value to their land; it was free for the taking, and excited no envy among them. The crops of the early years were unprofitable on account of the great distance to market; later, when the railway came to their doors, the crops were still unprofitable, owing to falling prices and diminishing yields due to poor cultivation. Then came a decade during which those who stayed in the country stayed because they could not get out, and it became a current saying that the more land a man farmed the deeper he got in debt. Homesteads were abandoned; settlers moved by night "across the line" or to more distant districts to begin their fight over again. And yet, in some way, Harris kept his idealism amid all the adversity in which the community was steeped; reverses could neither crush his spirit nor deflect it from its ambitions.

Then came the swing of the pendulum. No one knows just what started it, prosperity-wards. Some said it was that the farmers, disheartened with wheat-growing, were applying themselves to stock, and certain it is that in "mixed farming" the community eventually found its salvation; others attributed the change to improved agricultural implements, to improved methods of farming, to greater knowledge of prairie conditions, to reductions in the cost of transportation and enlarged facilities for marketing, or to increasing world demand and higher world prices for the product of the farm. Whatever the cause—and no doubt all of the above contributed—the fact generally dawned upon the settlers that land—their land—was worth money.

It was the farmers from the United States, scouting for cheaper lands than were available in their own communities, who first drove the conviction home. They came with money in their wallets; they were actually prepared to exchange real money for land. Such a thing had never before been heard of in Plainsville district. At first the settlers were sceptical. Here were two facts almost beyond the grasp of their imagination; that farmers should buy land with money, and the farmers should have money with which to buy land. True, a few of them had already bought railway lands at three or four dollars an acre, but they bought on long terms, with a trifling investment, and they aimed to pay for the lands out of the crops or not at all.

But a few transactions took place; lands were sold at five dollars, eight dollars an acre. The farmers began to realize that land represented wealth—that it was an asset, not a liability—and they began to push for the cheap railway lands that had so long gone begging. Harris was among the first to sense the change in the times, and he bought a beautiful section of railway land that lay next to his homestead he bought at four dollars an acre. The first crop more than paid for the land, and Harris suddenly found himself on the way to riches.

The joy that came with the realization that fortune had knocked at his door and he had heard was the controlling emotion of his heart for a year or more. But gradually, like a fog blown across a moonlit night, came a sense of chill and disappointment. If only he had bought two sections! If at least he had moved up on his pre-emption, which he might have had for nothing! He saw neighbours about him building quarter sections. None of them had done better than himself, but some had done as well. And in some way the old sense of oneness, the old community interest which had held the little band of pioneers together amid their privations and their poverty, began to weaken and dissolve, and in its place came an individualism and a materialism that measured progress only in dollars and cents. Harris did not know that his gods had fallen, that his ideals had been swept away; even as he sat this summer evening, with his daughter's arms about his neck, he felt that he was still bravely, persistently pressing on toward the goal, all unaware that years ago he had left that goal like a lighthouse on a rocky shore, and was now sweeping along with the turbulent tide of Mammonism. He still saw the light ahead, but it was now a phantom of the imagination. He said, "When I am worth ten thousand I will have reached it"; when he was worth ten thousand he found the faithless light had moved on to twenty-five thousand. He said, "When I am worth twenty-five thousand I will have reached it"; when he was worth twenty-five thousand he saw the glow still ahead, beckoning him on to fifty thousand. It never occurred to him to slacken his pace—to allow his mind a rest from its concentration; if he had paused and looked about him he would yet have recognized the distant lighthouse on the reef about the wreck of his ideals. But to stop now might mean losing all he had gained, and John Harris held nothing in heaven or earth so great as his attainment.

So, gently enough, he disengaged his daughter's arms and finished his supper in silence.

He ended the men started for the barn, and in a few minutes two wagons rattled noisily down the trail.

Beulah helped with the supper dishes, and then came out with the milk-pails to the corral where the cows, puffing and chewing, complacently awaited her arrival. But she had not reached the gate when the hired man was at her side and had slipped one of the pails from her arm.

"Now, Jim, I don't think that's fair at all," she said; and there was a tremor in her voice that vexed her. "Here you're slaving all day with coal and water, and I think that's enough, without milking cows at night."

But Jim only smiled and stirred a cow into position. "Yes, that's like you," she continued. "Pick a horse first, just because you know she's tough as rubber. Say, Jim, honest gods," she demanded, pausing and facing him, milk stool in hand, "why do you let that pig put this kind of stuff over on you?"

"You father doesn't put anything over on me," he answered. "I'm very fond of milking."

"Yes, you are—not," she said. "You do it on my account, because you're too big-hearted to quit before I'm through with you. There was a tawful song of the tin pails as the white streams rattled on their bottoms."

"Jim," she said, after a while, when the noise of the milking was drowned in the creamy froth, "I'm getting near the end of this kind of thing. Father's getting more and more set on money all the time. He thinks I should slave along too to pile up more beside what he's got already, but I'm not going to do it much longer. Another stands it—I guess she's got used to him, and she won't say anything, but if there's anything I'm not strong on my silence, I'm not afraid of work, or hard work either. I'd live in a shack if I had to. Pd—"

"Would you live in a shack?" said Jim.

She shot a quick look at him. But he was quietly smiling into his milk-pail, and she decided to treat his question impersonally.

"Yes, Pd live in a shack, too, if I had to. I put in my first years in a sod-house, and there was more real happiness romping up and down the land than there is now. In those days everybody was so poor that money didn't count. . . . It's different now."

Jim did not pursue the subject, and the milking was completed in silence. Jim finished first, and presently the rising hum of the cream separator was heard from the kitchen.

"There he goes, winning his arm off—for me," said the girl, as she rose from the last cow. "Poor Jim—I wish I knew whether it's just human kindness makes him do it, or whether

Castoria, or Something Else?

FLETCHER'S CASTORIA is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations.

It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

Fletcher's Castoria having been prepared solely for our little-ones, should not be confused with ordinary cure-alls or preparations primarily compounded for grown-ups. The child's organism, so delicate and tender, requires specially prepared medicines and foods, the one no less than the other, as mother-love well knows, and mother-love can not be deceived.

Taft Refers To Debt That The U. S. Owes To British Law

Ottawa.—William Howard Taft, chief justice of the United States, speaking before the Canadian Bar Association here paid tribute to British law and to British lawyers, and declared that "the thought of the British bar was always sweet, as it must be, to all those in the United States who realize the debt the United States owed to British law." Mr. Taft was greeted with continued cheering at the conclusion, and a resolution congratulating him on his appointment to the chief justiceship of the United States, proposed by Justice Riddell, Toronto, carried unanimously.

"I feel like saying: 'Here I am again,' Mr. Taft commenced. 'I am the home feeling here. In Ottawa I meet people and greet them with the same feeling as I do people in New Haven, New York and even Washington. I have no feeling of a boundary line at all. I have been in politics and abused on both sides of the line. I have sat on the bench on both sides and have realized in these descents the errors of men.' It was an honor for the American bar to have their representatives invited to attend the Canadian Bar Association meeting. It made for the firmer establishing of the friendship which did and must exist between the two countries."

Concluding the Canadian Bar Association, Mr. Taft said the American Bar Association regarded itself as the parent of the Canadian Association inasmuch as the convention of the American Association in Montreal in 1913 first brought the idea to the profession in Canada.

In the United States they were attempting to secure 18 additional district judges to deal with the cases arising out of the 18th amendment. This remark brought another outburst of laughter, which was renewed when Mr. Taft explained that these judges would be used as judicial light cavalry and would be annexed where the rush of cases demanded.

TOO ILL TO GO TO SCHOOL

Mother Tells how Daughter was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cobourg, Ont.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me for my daughter. She had trouble every month which left her in a weak and nervous condition with weak back and pain in her right side. She had these troubles for three years and frequently was unable to attend school. She has become regular and feels much better since she began taking the Vegetable Compound and attends school regularly. She is gaining steadily and I have no hesitancy in recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine."—Mrs. Joms Toms, Ball St., Cobourg, Ont.

Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions, young girls contract deranged conditions and develop headaches, backache, irregularities, nervousness and bearing-down pains, all of which are symptoms of woman's ills. Every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

Sinn Fein Invited To Conference

British Cabinet Insists That Ireland Must Remain Within Empire.

London.—The British Cabinet has invited Mr. de Valera to send delegates to a conference with the Cabinet Ministers at Inverness on September 20, according to the Daily Mail's Inverness correspondent, who adds:

"Only one condition is imposed, namely, on the understanding that Ireland must remain within the Empire."

The communication to Mr. de Valera, according to this dispatch, asks for an early reply and points out the apparent uselessness of conducting negotiations by a further exchange of notes. In order to allay any fears regarding Ulster the decision that Northern Ireland must not in any circumstances be coerced was reaffirmed by the ministers.

Cattle Stealing Charges

Stock Has Been Returned to Canadian Owners by U.S. Sheriffs.

Lethbridge, Alta.—James R. Leach, a Montana rancher living along the border, and James Muir, one of the cowboys of his outfit, were committed for trial at Court on a charge of stealing cattle from the Wallace, Ross and Webster outfits on the Alberta side of the line. Eight cattle involved in the alleged thefts have been gathered up by Montana sheriffs and turned over to their Canadian owners. Brand rurning was the method used in the operations, according to the evidence, and Sheriff Morgan, of Liberty County, Montana, testified that when he arrested Leach at Chester, he admitted his guilt.

Increase Lake Rates For Grain Shipment

Will Cost the Farmer One and a Half Cents a Bushel More.

Winnipeg.—Lake freights on grain from Fort William and Port Arthur to Georgian Bay points have been advanced 1½ cents a bushel this week.

Officials of the vessel owning companies say this is due to the demand from Chicago for tonnage and Canadian shippers must pay a premium to induce boats to come to the lake head for cargoes.

Grain Men Elect Officers.

Calgary.—M. J. Thordarson, manager of the Calgary branch of the N. Bawlf Grain Company, was elected president of the Western Grain Dealers' Association at the annual meeting held in the Grain Exchange.

H. O. Heimbecker, of Parrish and Heimbecker, Calgary, was elected vice-president, and D. O. McHugh was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Annual reports were received and approved.

Unemployment Conference.

Ottawa.—It is doubtful whether any steps will be taken toward calling a conference of representatives of the financial interests to meet with members of the employment service council at its meeting. ## Greeks Still Advance

Turk Army Is Unable to Resist the Greek Forces.

Greek General Headquarters in Asia Minor.—Turkish Nationalist forces have been driven from new positions occupied on September 1, but have retired slowly, defending every inch of the ground. On Tuesday night, the Turks launched wild attacks and succeeded temporarily in re-occupying their lost positions, but later were again driven out.

Unofficial estimates place the Turkish losses at 12,000 killed and wounded. The Greek losses are unknown, but are said to be heavy.

Grain Shipments Break All Records

Officials State Movement Well Ahead of Other Years.

Winnipeg.—All previous records for volume and early shipment of grain over the Canadian Pacific Railways western lines have been shattered this season.

Wheat and other grains shipped east up to this time has passed the eight million bushel mark and this in a measure, it is stated, accounts for reported congestion in Montreal. Of wheat, 5,419 cars have been handled aggregating 7,402,354 bushels and 580 cars of coarse grains have carried 1,020,400 bushels. Early harvest and threshing, and the course of many farmers in putting the grain on the market without delay is responsible for the heavy movement eastwards.

Preparing For Elections

Once Dissolution Takes Place and Writs Are Issued There Remains Only Routine Work.

Ottawa.—The necessary machinery for carrying out the coming general election is all ready. Once dissolution takes place and the writs for a general election are issued, there only remains the need for expressing all the necessary forms and documents to the returning officers in the various constituencies. At the office of the chief electoral officer, preparations have been made for despatching the necessary forms immediately by writ by issued and election officers throughout the Dominion will at the same time receive full printed instructions as to their duties.

With the exception of Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island, there already exist in the different provinces, lists of voters which will be used as the basis of lists to be prepared for the coming general election. In each case the lists will be brought up to date as provided by the Dominion Elections Act, revising officers and registrars being appointed as required.

Every dollar spent in your home town is a boost for the community.

In a recent address, given in Toronto, B. H. Morgan, chairman of British Empire Producers' Association, said he had found a pronounced feeling in Western Canada against the British embargo on livestock.

There seemed to be a notion that the embargo was directed against Canada solely, but this was not the case. All cattle of the world and all livestock, are barred from England. The lifting of the embargo would not help Canada in the end.

"What I have impressed on your cattle breeders is that they can help and lift up this country by a chilled meat trade far more than by a livestock trade with the mother country. You have all the facilities, the abattoirs, cold storage and the transportation lines. You can ship four dressed heaves to England for the price of one live animal; and you have a market that can absorb all you can produce for the next ten or fifteen years."

"The future of Canada must be based on agriculture which will be the backbone of Canada for many years. But agricultural development cannot be divorced from the political situation for this reason you are bound to go along very much the same lines both in agriculture and manufacturing that you have for many years."

"An agricultural policy must be coupled with a trading policy, you must have markets for your goods. You cannot legislate against combines against you in foreign countries, but you can control your markets from within to sell your goods to your kith and kin."

To adopt free trade in Canada said Mr. Morgan, would be to become the prey to a repetition of the evils accompanying it now in Great Britain.

How the Ford Maintains Its Value

"Today the Ford is selling below the 1914 price and yet is a better car. How has this been made possible?"

Here is the answer to that question.

1. One standard model. As time goes on we improve our methods of doing the things we have always specialized upon. There are no losses due to radical and unnecessary changes in design causing the scrapping of machinery, tools and materials.

2. The adoption of new time and money-saving machines means new savings.

3. Enormous production has permitted us to obtain lowest prices on raw materials.

Although the 1921 car sells for less money than the 1914 model, the following improvements have been added: an improved body, ventilating windshield, one-man top, demountable rims and better upholstery.

The extra value of the Ford is recognized. If you want early delivery, order now.

Do you know what constitutes a strong constitution?

To have sound, healthy nerves, completely under control, digestive organs that are capable of absorbing a hearty meal, means you have a strong constitution! Your general attitude is one of optimism and energy.

But an irritable disposition, frequent attacks of indigestion, and a languid depression, indicate your system is not in correct working order.

Probably you are not eating the proper food. Probably the nutritious elements are not being supplied to your system in the proper way.

Grape-Nuts is the wholesome, delicious cereal that promotes normal digestion, absorption and elimination, whereby nourishment is accomplished without auto-intoxication. A mixture of energy-giving wheat and malted barley comprise the chief elements of Grape-Nuts. A dish at breakfast or lunch is an excellent, wholesome rule to follow.

You can order Grape-Nuts at any and every hotel, restaurant, and lunch room; on dining cars on lake boats and steamers; in every good grocery, large and small, in every city, town or village in Canada.

PAINFUL DIARRHOEA CRAMPS IN STOMACH

Mr. Fred Funston, Craik, Sask., writes:—"A year ago last harvest I was taken with a sudden attack of diarrhoea which completely laid me out, and in a few hours I had to quit work. The cramps in my stomach were dreadful, the beads of perspiration would stand out on my face at times I was in such great distress. At last I got a chance to send to town for a couple of bottles of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I used it according to the way I felt and soon obtained a great change for the better, for which I was very thankful. I don't know what the cause of my sickness was except the extremely hot weather and the active work of stooking the wheat."

Several of my neighbors were taken the same as myself and had the doctor attend them, but they didn't get any great relief until I advised them to use "Dr. Fowler's" when they soon experienced a great change. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 76 years and many cheap imitations are being offered to the public.

A Novel Sport Coat

By Marie Belmont.

The sport coat appears in many a different guise, for it has various functions to fulfill. Sometimes it is demanded by the woman who goes in strenuously for athletics, or it may be worn by her who watch the players. This rather redecorative model belongs to the latter class. It is made of yellow flannel. The fronts, which are extended at the sides to form pockets, are outlined with bands of black crepe. The cuffs are similarly adorned. The collar is high and is enriched with black wool embroidery. This also appears on the sleeves, which are very wide.

What Mrs. Beesley says, thousands of other mothers say. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion and making teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Was Flat On His Back In Bed A Whole Month, Declares Thompson

"The very first few doses of Tanlac I took made me feel better, and now my stomach seems just like a new one," said Samuel Thompson, 172 Peters ave., Winnipeg, Man.
"I was in very bad shape before I got Tanlac. My health broke down a year ago, and I got to where I was little more than a physical wreck. I was flat on my back in bed for a month, and when I got up the life of me seemed to be gone. I hardly had strength enough to get around, and my appetite was very poor. I soon commenced suffering from indigestion so bad I just hated the thought of eating, for my food soured and I was kept bloated and in agony all the time.

"I finally started taking Tanlac, however, and by the time I had finished my second bottle I was eating heartily. I've taken five bottles now and can eat and enjoy anything I want and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am glad to recommend Tanlac, for I believe it will help anyone suffering from stomach trouble."
Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

It Testifies for Itself.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil needs no testimonial of its powers other than itself. Whoever tries it for coughs or colds, for cuts or contusions, for sprains or burns, for pains in the limbs or body, will know that the medicine proves itself and needs no guarantee. This shows why this Oil is in general use.

Publishers' Costs Mounting.

The postmaster-general has notified newspaper publishers that the rate of postage on newspapers sent from the office of publication will be doubled on and after the first of January next. There was a big increase in the rate last January and now it is to go up again. The printers' costs are mounting rather than diminishing.—From the Orillia Packet.

Fancy cigar-holders for women have made their appearance in London stores. They are accompanied by a small pair of clips with which to cut off the end of the cigar.

Nearly nine-tenths of the Canadian imports during the year ending on June 30th last came from the United States and Great Britain, the former supplying 70 per cent, and the latter 16 per cent. Yet the Canadian situation will careful nursing in the next few years. The Fordney tariff has not helped matters any and the rate of exchange is a hindrance. It is hoped that blundering in congress does not lose us a good and consistent customer.

That Orientals are getting an increasingly firm hold on the produce trade of British Columbia is shown by figures given out by the provincial department of agriculture. More than 55 per cent, of the potatoes produced in the province are now grown by Chinese.
